

Dr. Morrin had integrity

We were deeply saddened to hear of the sudden death of Dr. Peter Morrin. Some of his medical achievements were well documented in the Whig by Dr. A. Ross Morton. We would like to add a small tribute to Dr. Morrin from a personal perspective.

We knew him to be a dedicated family man, a person of deep faith, a man of diverse interests and talents, and a consummate gentleman. We always enjoyed his unassuming personality, one that masked a sharp wit and keen intelligence. Peter also exemplified what it means to be a person of integrity.

For more than 30 years, our family appreciated the friendship and kindness we received from Peter and his wife, Mariella. Like so many others, we have enjoyed the wonderful hospitality of the Morrin household. We offer our condolences to Mariella and to their sons Peter Jr., Hugh and Robin, and their families.

Dr. Peter Morrin will be greatly missed.
